

Texting and driving

Randall's ESL cyber listening Lab, 1min13s

<https://www.esl-lab.com/intermediate/texting-driving/>

1. The woman...

- ☐ declines a ride to the train station.
☐ offers the man a ride to the train station.
☒ asks the man for a ride to the train station.

Justification: Could you give me a ride to the train station

2. Why can't she walk to the train station?

- ☐ Her feet hurt.
☒ She doesn't have enough time.
☐ She had a long day and she's tired.

Justification: My train leaves in about 20 minutes, and I don't have time

3. The man receives a text message about ...

- ☐ vacation plans.
☐ a job interview.
☒ a medical appointment.

Justification: just got a text from my mom about her doctor's appointment

4. How does the woman feel about the man texting?

- ☐ She doesn't care.
☒ She doesn't feel good.
☐ She feels comfortable.

Justification: I feel uncomfortable

5. Texting while driving is legal.

- ☐ True ☒ False

Justification: it is against the law

6. The woman asks the man...

- ☐ to drive faster.
☒ to stop the car.
☐ to give her his phone.

Justification: Pull over. I can catch the next train.

7. The man and woman are in trouble because ...

- ☐ they don't have a license.
☐ their window doesn't work.
☒ the other driver looks scary.

Justification: The driver of the other car looks like a pro wrestler

8. The man asks the woman to ...

- ☒ switch places.
☐ call the police.
☐ talk to the other driver.

Justification: Oh, hey, uh switch me seats

9. The woman suggests ...

- ☐ catching the bus.
☒ calling the police.
☐ talking with the other driver.

Justification: I think it would be a good time for you to text or call the police.

Texting and driving

Randall's ESL cyber listening Lab, 1min13s

<https://www.esl-lab.com/intermediate/texting-driving/>

Woman: Hey. Are you leaving now?

Man: Yeah.

Woman: Could you give me a ride to the train station?

Man: Sure. Get in.

Woman: Oh, I'm glad I caught you. My train leaves in about 20 minutes, and I don't have time to walk there.

Man: No problem. Oh, I just got a text from my mom about her doctor's appointment.

Woman: Wait. You're not going to text and drive, are you?

Man: Yeah. I'm pretty good at it. Watch! Now, look here . . .

Woman: No, no. Hey, hey, to be honest, I feel uncomfortable with you trying to do both at the same time . . . and it is against the law.

Man: I've had a lot of practice.

Woman: No really, I'll just walk. Pull over. I can catch the next train.

Man: No, no, no. I'm almost finished with this text ... just a second.

Woman: Watch out!!

Man: AHHHH! Oh, no. My car.

Woman: Oh, no. OH NO!! Forget your car. The driver of the other car looks like a pro wrestler, and boy, does he look angry. Oh, no, oh no. He just punched that light pole and smashed his car window with his fist.

Man: Oh, hey, uh switch me seats?

Woman: No. Forget it. I think it would be a good time for you to text or call the police.

Man: Augh.

Idioms

"drive someone crazy" = make someone go crazy

"My younger sister drives me crazy with her terrible jokes."

"What are you driving at?" = What do you mean?

"So, why did you say that terrible stuff about my clothes? What are you driving at? Do you mean they are old and ugly?"